Multi-Phased Dementia Care

Grand Traverse Pavilions offers specialized care to those residents with dementia and cognitive impairments. For those in the early stages of dementia, our Willow Cottage offers a safe and secure assisted living environment.

People who have advanced dementia symptoms may require a higher level of care. Our Elm Pavilion provides those living with dementia or related disorders a safe environment, where meaningful leisure activities and quality of life are priority.

We strive to provide the highest level of care in a respectful and caring manner that enhances each residents' physical, mental and psychosocial abilities.

Our program and services are meant to bring meaning, purpose and pleasure to each resident's day and designed specifically for persons with memory loss and cognitive impairments.

Family Support

Family support is also important. In addition to providing comfort and reassurance to both our residents and their significant others and families, the Pavilions provides support and education through internal services and external support networks.

Our staff understands the unique challenges that face our residents and their families, while working to address psychosocial, spiritual and emotional needs. Supporting and educating the family is also important to help provide support to our residents.
